

PRESENTATION TO A GROUP:

It is not easy to stand in front of a group of people whether it's a small group or a whole hall full. Presenting is a skill that many jobs require so getting used to doing it early can be a huge benefit for your future. It also demonstrates that you are confident, willing to put yourself out of your comfort zone and able to communicate effectively which are all really important for job applications.

Briefly summarise the topic of your presentation here:

Who did you do your presentation to?

How did you feel before, during and after completing your presentation?

What went well and what would you like to improve next time?

What feedback did other people give you after your presentation?
